

Effective 9/16/19

ACC Approval Expiration Policy

- All modification approvals from the ACC will have ONE year to complete their approved project. If the project is not completed within one year of receiving the approval the owner will have to resubmit for approval. If applicable, new review fees would also have to be submitted.
- Any modification approval from before 1/1/2018 that has not yet been completed must be submitted again for approval.
- Any approved new construction plans will have ONE year to begin their construction upon receiving final approval from the ACC. If construction has not commenced within one year of the plans receiving final approval, the owner/builder will have to resubmit plans again. New review fees would also have to be submitted.